Prosecutor Glenn Continues Strong Argument Against Dickerson--- Jury Held To Every Syllable

Prosecutor Glenn did not conclude his argument to the jury Thursday afternoon as he expected but continued it over till Friday morning, as told on page 1 today. Thursday afternoon he held the jury's closest attention while he gave a lucid exposition of every disputed point, cemented with practiced eye every crevice in the wall of evidence he and his assistants have built up around the accused man. His review of the case is interesting as well as exhaustive and he is leaving not a stone unturned.

Promptly at two o'clock court was convened and Prosecutor Glenn resumed his argument in a low well modulated tone.

"All you require along the line of bloodhound evidence is that there was a trail from the forked tree by way of the Dohson home to Dickerson's residence."

"The person who killed Kate Hughes and placed her head in that tree left some trail when he left the spot. That is as evident as though that trail could be seen by the human eye."

The speaker dwelt at length upon different species of dogs showing the different ways different breeds prove the testimony of the dogs. This is a fact; although the attorneys for the defense have a right to work for their client but why should all the witnesses for the state be charged with prejudice, bias and untruth? These witnesses did not come into court for the purpose of swearing away the life of a fellow being. Why should they? No, they have been asked to come here and tell the truth of what each knows and they have come in the interest of the protection of society.

"I have been criticized by opposing counsel on different things connected with this case. I was present when the dogs ran the trail and observed different matters perhaps more closely than any of the witnesses. I have been criticized for not going on the stand and telling what I know of the trail of the dogs. It was not my place to do so; he had uninterested witnesses to do that."

The speaker spoke at length upon the subject of witnesses on bloodhound testimony and claimed that it was that the stories were not all exactly the same.

He however, called attention to the fact that May Moran, the crippled woman, uneducated, stated that she saw Dickerson in the clover patch and was confident that she told the truth. In answer to the assertion of Mr. Voorhees, of the defense, that the dogs were on Tom McCoy's trail as much as they were on Dickerson's the speaker pointed out the route over which Tom McCoy passed on that day and compared it with the trail run by the dogs showing the wide difference. He then turned to the testimony of Hugh Daugherty and spoke of the difference in his route of the dogs as compared with several of the state's witnesses.

Comparing the weight of the testimony of Hugh Daugherty and poor crippled Mrs. Moran the speaker remarked:

"In my experience as a lawyer and a man I have in the hovel than in the mansion," and in this connection, he took a little time to show up corruption in high life giving even presidents of life insurance companies a gentle roast.

Thomas McCoy's testimony was next taken up and thoroughly discussed:

"Who is Thomas McCoy? He is an old man now 68 years old, gray hair and becoming feeble as all men eventually must become."

"He did not know this unfortunate woman. He is a man who has always been engaged in hard labor. The question which you men are called upon to decide is whether or not Thomas McCoy told the truth here on the witness stand."

"There is one method of determining whether a man is telling the truth on the witness stand and that is cross-examination. One counsel for the defense has charged me with the heinous crime of attempting to suppress testimony. That charge fell from the lips of an honest, upright man but I say it was no compliment to the intelligence of this jury that knows better."

"The defense also goes into the question of the life and character of the prisoner at the bar. We agree with them that man cannot become degenerate enough to commit a crime as terrible as this one in a short time. This grows up with him and is with him all his life. The charge that we tried to

is wholly unfounded and reflects upon even the court."

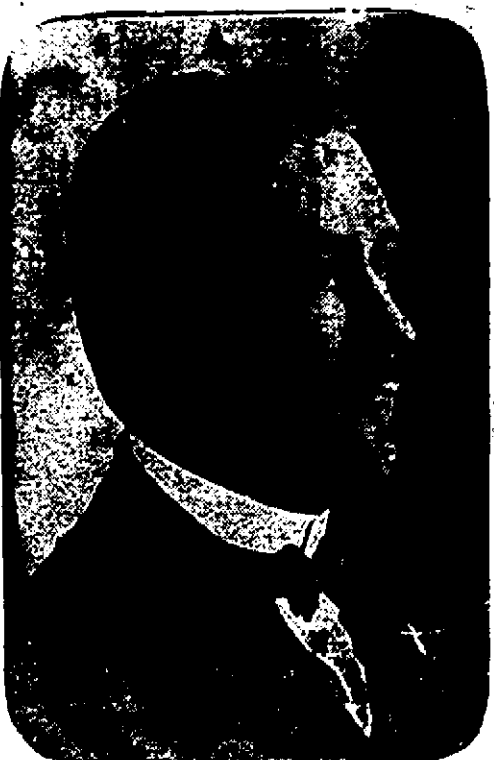

"On the contrary, we hope that all relevant facts be unfolded."

Coming back to Tom McCoy the speaker said: "How thoughtful it was of the ruler of the universe by sending

An Old Man

Thomas McCoy to see what he could do by that spring. If he had sent a young man who possibly may have been friendly with Mrs. Hughes, the jury would perhaps not have been certain of which one committed the crime but an old man like McCoy almost ready for the grave why there is no doubt." Prosecutor Glenn discussed at length the question of Thomas McCoy's alleged different stories before the two grand juries and at the present trial and shed considerable light upon it. The prosecutor insisted that McCoy's testimony was just what he was saked for and if it did not appear the same at each he, Mr. Glenn should be blamed for not asking the questions similarly on each occasion.

"Now in spite of all the talk about the testimony of Tom McCoy, what is there inconsistent. The fact remains that the old man saw Dickerson in the very act of committing the crime and recognized him. "When Tom McCoy told me his story I frankly confess that for a time, I thought he was making a big story out of a little one; in other words I thought he was 'stringing' me but I soon that the old man was telling me nothing but the truth. Another thing I venture to assert that there is not a person in this vast audience or a member of the bar who can stand a cross-examination any better than Thomas McCoy did and stay with his story any better. Its remarkable that a man of his years and education could go through what he did and come out as well."

Became Confident

The Story of the Trial of Dickerson—The

The twelve men who hold the fate of Ben Dickerson in their hand have become familiar to all of Coshocton, for all of Coshocton has been a steady caller on them at the court house.

The Ben Dickerson case is in the hands of the jury and how long it will remain there is something to conjecture. It is interesting at this juncture to look back at the past six weeks and see how the celebrated case has developed step by step. Here it is in a nutshell:

Feb. 26—Court opened with Judge Eason on the bench; Owen Marshall and James Manner appointed assistant bailiffs; Lewis McClain and Frank Wiggins, deputy sheriffs; court opened at 10:45 a. m. 63 additional names drawn by defense for witnesses; empanelling of jury began and Jacob Crile and W. R. Crooks, the two first men up, were both accepted.

Feb. 27—L. F. Kreider accepted on jury. Also J. L. Whiteside and Wm. McCune. First tip given that state would depend on circumstantial evidence.

Feb. 28—John Burris, J. C. Douglas and W. H. Burrell put on jury; venire exhausted and court adjourned for Judge Eason to select extra venire.

March 1—New venire assembled. Age predicts that trial will last till almost Easter Sunday. B. O. Stengel and J. P. Suntheimer selected jurors.

March 2—Second venire exhausted and third called. Chas. Kempf eleventh juror. Jurors slept at jail for first time. Night session and Chas. Huff selected as twelfth juror.

March 3—Jury goes to Cooperdale and examines premises.

March 4—Sunday.

March 5—Case opens. Prosecutor Glenn in making statement to jury indicate revenge to be shown as the motive. Coroner Lear first witness.

March 6—Clothing of Mrs. Hughes as evidence. Dr. McClain on stand. Defense makes point of fact that bloodhounds took scent after many had handled the tree. Dolly Hughes on the stand.

March 7—Floyd Dickerson and Mollie Ogle on stand. First row between Joe McDowell and Judge Roche. Defense say they will dis-prove house burning story.

March 8—Age gives first intimation of charge of alleged attempted bribery. Squire Trego tells of Mrs. Hughes asking protection.

March 9—Elijah Thomas, aged father, on the stand. Testimony that Ben was hiding in briars morning of murder. Grant Thomas says he saw Ben fleeing from direction of burning house.

March 10—Birdie Cunningham tells of Ben handing Mrs. Hughes $2.

March 11—Sunday.

March 12—Juror McCune's child taken ill and court adjourned.

March 13—Death of child causes adjournment till Thursday.

March 14—No court.

March 16—Jim Dobson says he saw Ben on track dogs took. His daughters also testify. Wilson tells of dogs.

SIMON HUGHES

March 17—Dobson and Judge Roche on alleged bribery question. Hart Dean tells of Ben growing pale at mention of dogs.

March 18—Sunday.

March 19—Frank Hardesty on stand. Tom McCoy called but held off till Judge Voorhees, who was ill, could be present. Simon Hughes on.

March 20—Tom McCoy furnishes sensation of trial and says he saw Ben face to face down in deli. Declares he is afraid Ben may kill him in court room.

March 21—Sheriff Brownling and Marshal Carter on stand. Doctors say they found Ben melancholy in jail. Newspapermen called.

March 22—Ogle says Kate told him Ben ought to be knocked in the head.

March 23—Defense wants newspaper or reporters' out of room. Judge Eason makes stand for publicity.

March 24—Defense opens case with W. H. Trego on stand.

March 25—Sunday.

March 26—Hugh Daugherty tells opposite of state's witnesses on blood hound testimony.

March 27—Pontius on stand; did trainer urge dogs to Dickerson home?

March 28—Defense alleges detectives employed by state are shadowing their witnesses. Character witnesses begin.

March 29—Character witness says Ben's reputation above the ordinary.

March 30—Lacey and McCoy's testimony directly opposite. Grand jury testimony pit in evidence.

March 31—Mrs. Dickerson on the stand.

April 1—Sunday.

April 2—Judge Roche on stand on bribery story. Dr. Pomerene says Mrs. Hughes might have died from shock.

April 3—Ben Dickerson goes on the stand himself.

April 4—Ben still on stand and refuses to answer certain questions. Defense concludes.

April 5—Rebuttal testimony begins. W. C. Dickerson tells stock killing on stand. Assailed by Judge Voorhees. Harvey Cullison denies some of Ben's statements.

April 7—Requests made court by attorneys on points of law.

April 9—Arguments begin. Atty. McDowell opens for state. Atty. Adams for defense.

April 10—Atty. Daugherty for defense; Atty. Wheeler for state.

April 11—Atty. Roche for defense; Judge Voorhees concludes for defense.

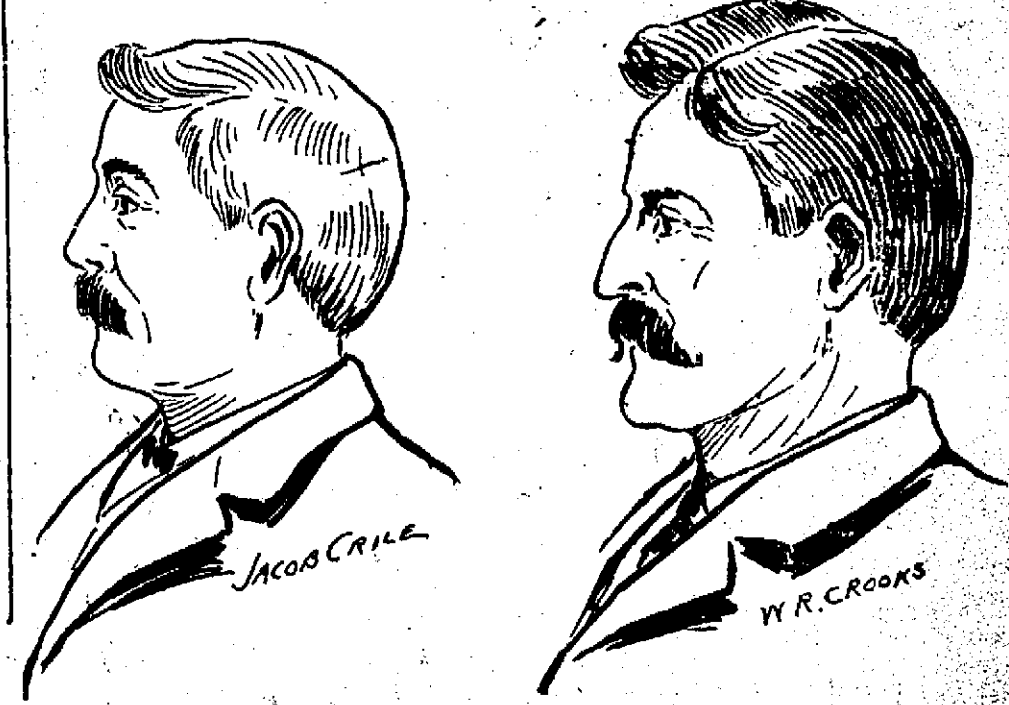

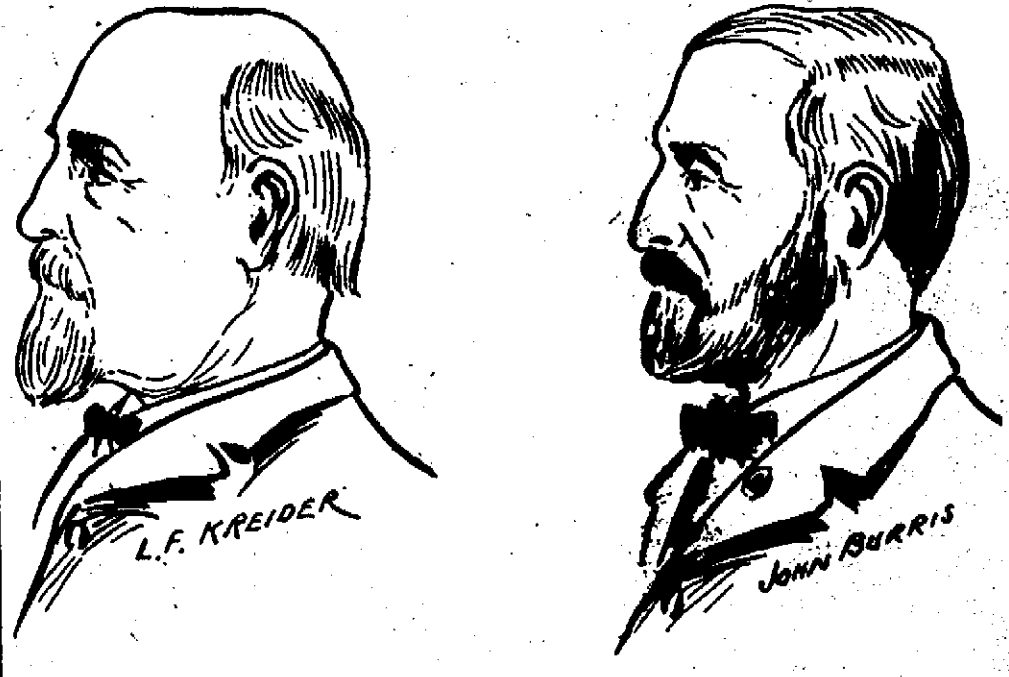

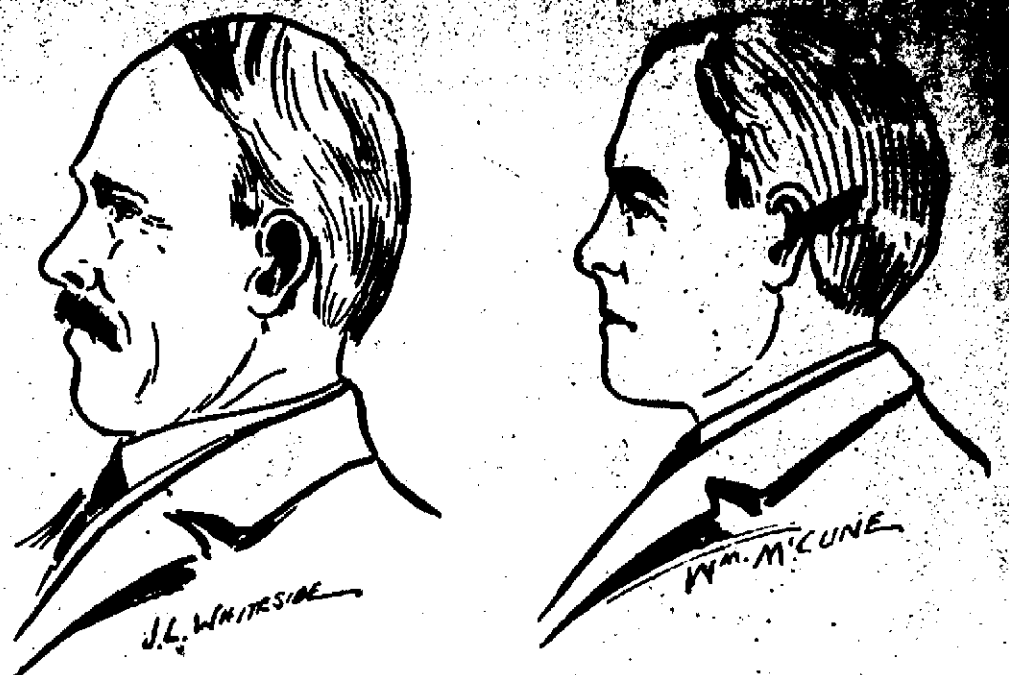

April 12—Prosecutor Glenn concludes for state.

April 13—Prosecutor Glenn concludes his argument. Judge Eason charges jury and jury retires.

THE HUMAN BAROMETER

How the Rheumatic Sufferer Can Predict the Weather. The Scientific Reason for the Phenomenon

A great many people laugh at the idea that rheumatic pains serve to indicate the weather, but it is a scientific fact and the lesson is well worth learning.

Dampness in the air affects the blood just as quick as it affects the barometer. When you have rheumatism there is an overload of uric acid in your blood and damp weather causes this to change into little grains like sand. These grains of uric acid settle in the joints and muscles, causing Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Lumbago.

So you see that the rhumatic sufferer does know when the air is damp, when it is likely to rain, because the uric acid pains tell him.

Plainly, if you get rid of the uric acid you will be cured. LIFE PLANT drives out the uric acid, dissolves the uric acid grains out of the joints and muscles—and so your own common sense will tell you that LIFE PLANT must cure all uric acid diseases.

Have you ever really tried to cure your rheumatism by getting rid of its cause?

Ever tried to drive out the uric acid? Then just try curing yourself in this common sense way.

If you are not yet convinced, write to the LIFE PLANT COMPANY, Canton, Ohio, for information about the thousands of rheumatic sufferers LIFE PLANT has cured.

Guilty of Murder In The First Degree Is Verdict of The Dickerson Jury

HE MUST DIE IN THE ELECTRIC CHAIR

Defense To File Motion Monday For New Trial---The Age's Morning Extra A Big Hit

Ben Dickerson was brought into court Saturday at 1:25—just 12 hours after he was declared to be a murderer by the jury—for the formality of having sentenced passed, but his attorneys gave formal notice of an intent to ask a new trial, and sentence was deferred. They will file the motion Monday or Tuesday, when Judge Eason will return here.

Forty days is allowed for a bill of exceptions to be filed and it will probably take that time for the voluminous transcript. Dickerson was as imperturbable as ever, but he now has a worried look on his face. He will not be arraigned till after the motion is filed.

He was taken back to jail and Judge Eason left for Wooster, adjourning court till Thursday.

One ballot was all that was taken by the jury. They first carefully perused the charge of the court and decided with practical unanimity that Dickerson was guilty in the first degree. When they voted unanimously, and decided not to tell how many or how few ballots were taken. The Age's information however comes direct and is authentic.

Ben Dickerson is guilty of murder in the first degree. The jury reported at 1:25 o'clock Saturday morning and they declare that Ben Dickerson killed Mrs. Katherine Hughes in an attempted rape. Their verdict coincides with popular opinion of the case.

This means the death sentence for Ben Dickerson. He will have to die in the electric chair unless his attorneys manage to save him with a reversal of the verdict and another result in a new trial.

They have given notice that they will ask for a new trial and will file a bill of exceptions, of which they claim there are plenty. The law has it that the execution of a convicted murderer follows within 100 days of the sentence.

Judge Eason left Saturday afternoon for Wooster and says he will confer with Judge Maxwell concerning the other cases of the April term returned here the latter part of next week when he will hear the motion for a new trial and if overruled, will then sentence Ben Dickerson. It was expected that he would be sentenced Saturday morning and a crowd gathered to see the event.

When sentenced Dickerson will be taken to the penitentiary annex where convicted murderers await death, and will remain there until his case is settled in the upper courts as his attorneys say they will take it up.

Circuit court convenes here in May but on account of the voluminous record which the biggest the county ever saw, it is hardly possible for the case to be prepared in that time and if it is not then it will hang over till October, and Ben Dickerson's sentence be stayed.

When Ben was awakened by Sheriff Browning shortly after midnight Friday night to be taken over to the court house he was sleepy.

"What's the use of my going over?" he asked the sheriff. Still unconcerned as to his fate was he.

When he left the court house with the verdict still ringing in his ears he turned to Deputy McClain and laughed and joked about a fellow who had tried to snap his picture Friday afternoon.

He ate a hearty breakfast Saturday morning and remarked that he was feeling about as usual.

The biggest feature of the day was the fact that The Age—as usual—was right at the front and early in the morning had an extra on the streets telling a graphic story of the scene in the court room between 1 and 2 o'clock Saturday morning, and in fact all the news there was to be had. The extra was filled with pictures of the scenes of the crime, the attorneys, principal witnesses and Dickerson. It was a great convenient edition of the important event and 900 papers were copied up as fast as extra boys could run from the office with them. The edition was utterly exhausted within an hour and demands have continued for them all day. The extra was a great success.

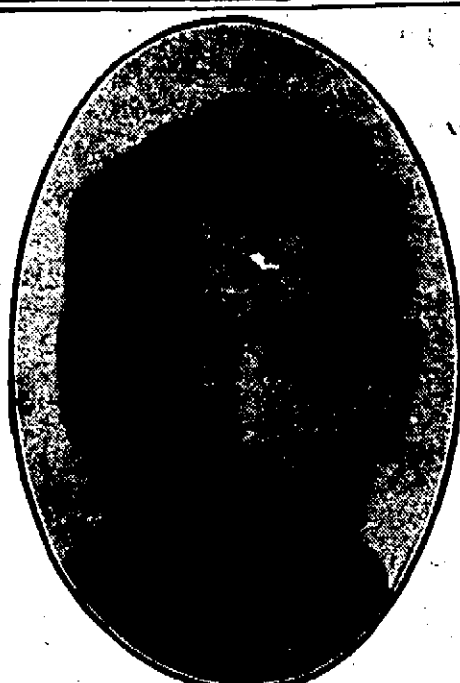

The extra was a great success. The extra was a great success. The extra was a great success.

BEN DICKERSON

ery man answered that it was his verdict individually.

"If there is nothing further we will discharge this jury" said Judge Eason.

A Final Scrap

Just then Judge Roche approached the court stenographer and whispered to her. Quick as flash Mr. McDowell was at his side.

"I want to hear this," said Mr. McDowell.

"It's none of your business" came the retort.

"It is our business," declared the attorney for the state.

The court ruled that the stenographer could give either side what they wanted. The defense stated they had asked for certain transcripts at once.

Then Judge Eason complimented the jury and discharged them. He said:

"Gentlemen of the jury, this has been a lengthy trial and one of peculiar importance. You have done your duty so faithfully and son conscientiously that I desire to compliment you and return you thanks. I have only heartiest approval for your actions throughout the trial."

The jurors drew their pay at the clerk's office went back to the jail to bed and this morning left for their homes. The county commends them as honest men.

County Saved $4000 By Verdict

The verdict of guilty in the Ben Dickerson case saves Coshockton county thousands of dollars, for the entire expense of the trial with the exception of attorneys fees, jury fees, and grand jury expenses, is now shouldered by the state of Ohio.

A careful estimate made at the close of the trial shows the following figures, part of them necessarily estimates, to be close to truth:

Jury, $1134.10.
Witnesses and mileage, $2605.16.
Bailliffs, $355.
Stenographer and clerk, $165.
State's attorneys, $550.
Guarding prisoner, etc., $150.
Total, $5259.26.

The county must stand the jury expense and all the grand jury and its witnesses, of course, but which cannot properly be counted as a part of the Dickerson expense. Deducting the county's share of the items given above, the state will pay, and the county save, $4125.16. Thus the cost to the county is actually on the jury or $1134.10. Incidentals will probably swell the amount to $2000.

MINERS AND OPERATORS NOT CLOSE TOGETHER

Conference to settle wage scale is not yet successful.

There will have to be a change before success crowns the efforts of the operators and miners of this sub-district to get together. The joint conference organized late Friday afternoon as follows: Chairman, F. N. Barnes, secretary, T. M. Davies. The operators present are C. L. and G. W. Cassingham, F. N. Barnes, H. D. Dennis, David Davis and Ralph Masop. The Friday meeting was futile and Saturday morning at city hall separate conferences were held by the miners and at the same place in the afternoon a joint conference was in progress as The Age goes to press.

A Broken Ankle.

Mrs. F. C. Divan fell down the cellar stairs at her residence on North Eighth street Friday evening and broke her ankle. The injury is a very painful one.

Horse Got Tired Waiting.

John Lewis of West Lafayette while going from house to house selling vegetables Friday afternoon left his horse standing in front of a house on East Walnut street hitched to a wagon, the horse getting tired of waiting began to walk away in a slow walk, the slow walk soon became a run and in a short time the horse was on its way home towards Lafayette, it was stopped by a man who happened to be passing. Mr. Lewis finally recovered his horse.

To Avoid Arrest.

Columbus Grove, O., April 14.—Clarence Frank, who confessed to Deputy State Fire Marshal Goodsell that he set fire to his residence at Lepisio, killed himself with a revolver just as the police were about to arrest him on the charge of arson. Frank confessed that he insured the furniture for $500, although its real value was not over $200, and that he sought to burn it in order to recover the full value of the policy.

Murdered and Robbed.

Wooster, O., April 14.—Thomas Dye, 17, son of a farmer living near Orrville, was murdered by highwaymen. The boy's body was found along the tracks of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad. A bullet hole just below the heart showed the cause of death. His watch and trinkets, also a ring he had on his right hand, are missing. Tramps are suspected.

Neck Broken.

Piqua, O., April 14.—Mrs. George Spittler, 74, fell down the cellar stairs at her home in Covington, six miles west of here, and broke her neck. She was seized with dizziness just as she was about to descend the stairs and fell. Her dead body was found a short time after by her aged husband.

Fatally Wounded.

Steubenville, O., April 14.—Bert McMath, a tube mill employe, was shot and fatally wounded in a mysterious way at the Dorsey hotel. Several fellow boarders are held for the shooting, as it is thought by the police that McMath was shot during a carouse.

Fined for Cruelty to Horse.

Worthy Palmer once again finds himself in the toils. On Thursday Palmer and Pard Clark were arrested by the police charged with reckless driving and disorderly conduct and were given fines in these charges in mayor's court. After the rig was taken to the Clark livery, the horse was about to drop in its tracks as a result of overheating. Humane Officer Jackson was then notified and he had the man arraigned before Squire Wimmer this afternoon and he was assessed another $7.50 on the charge of overdriving and cruelly beating the horse.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES

At Bridgeport, Illinois—Well Known by Older Residents of Coshockton County.

Word has been received here of the death of W. K. Spencer a former resident of West Bedford, at Bridgeport, Lawrence county, Illinois, on April 8th.

In 1880 Mr. Spencer left Coshockton county. He was widely known by older residents of the county and for several years taught in the public schools.

Miners and Operators.

At 3 o'clock the miners and operators have entered joint conference. The miners had prepared their ultimatum and so had the operators. Just what the result will be no one knows.

AGREEMENT RATIFIED.

Athens, O., April 14.—The dead work scale agreed upon for the Hocking district by the joint committee of miners and operators, was ratified by the convention of miners. As a result of this all of the mines of subdistrict No. 1 of district No. 1, with the exception of the Sunday Creek and the Lohr Coal company, will resume work at once. The scale agreed upon is practically a return to the dead work scale of 1904. The operators granted all the demands of the miners with the exception of the eight-hour day for engineers and firemen, who are given an increase of wages of 5.9 per cent.

Contract Labor Bill a Law.

Columbus, O., April 14.—Labor leaders who were responsible for the passage of the Wertz bill, taking convict labor out of competition with free labor, declare that they will seek to prevent the penitentiary board of managers from putting any new prisoners to work under the old contracts. Jacob Stoessel, one of the local molders' conference board, said the unions would go further and attack the right of the prison board to make a new contract while the legislature was considering the abolition of contract labor. The Wertz bill became a law today.

Can Not Be Bribed.

Barnesville, O., April 14.—Alonso Petticoat, who was recently elected marshal of this city, has received through the mail two envelopes, one containing $10 and the other $30, and he believes that some one is trying to bribe him. He has issued a statement that he has deposited the money in a local bank, where the sender can recover it up to May 1. If it is not withdrawn by that time, he says he will use the money in the administration of his office. "I can not be bribed," declares the marshal.

Anthrax Situation.

Philadelphia, April 14.—There was but little hope for industrial peace in the anthracite region among the men most interested in the coal situation. One and all seemed convinced that nothing short of an unexpected intervention of some sort can now prevent a coal strike, or rather can prevent the declaration on the part of the coming mine workers' convention that a strike exists. It is regarded as settled, according to the general belief in the region, that the mine operators have gone as far as they will go.

Date of Hague Conference.

Washington, April 14.—Secretary Root has informed the Russian government that any date after Sept. 20 next will be convenient to the United States for the holding of the second Hague conference. An effort is being made to secure the admission of the South American delegates to the conference on an equality with others by allowing their governments to adhere formally to the arbitration agreement prepared by the first Hague conference.

AGE PENNANT GOES TO BEST CLUB IN LEAGUE

The circuit for the County baseball league is not complete as yet but seven teams having been given berths. At the meeting held in the Age office Friday night Messrs. J. A. Case and T. V. McLaughlin, of Otsego were in attendance and applied for admission into the league.

This would complete the circuit but the managers were not certain whether their men would care to make the long trips to the oil city and the Otsego representatives will be notified the first of the week they will be given a berth.

The constitution modeled after the one used in the P. O. M. League was submitted by the committee and adopted.

The pennant to be awarded to the team with the best percentage at the close of the season, offered by The Age, was accepted by the managers with thanks as was a cup offered by the Times.

The McClurg ball was adopted as the official brand for the league and will be furnished by Smith's drug store.

As soon as the eighth team is decided upon, the schedule committee will get busy on the schedule which will consist of probably twenty-eight games for each team during the season.

The committee has been asked to report at the next meeting to be held next Thursday night.

The matter of when the four local teams should be given the grounds in Riverside park for practice was settled by the managers as follows:

Monday night, Park Views; Tuesday night, H. D. Beach; Wednesday, Buckeyes; and Friday, Schlacks. Thursday night is open and the teams practice on that evening in regular order. It was also stated that the managers or captains of the teams should have the power to ask anyone not a member of his team to get off the diamond on the night his team is practicing.

Each team will be allowed to reserve twelve men and after a player signs with a certain team, he will not be allowed to jump to another team without the consent of his former manager. No team will be allowed to pay any member for services.

It was also decided that each manager name a man for umpire and the home umpire will officiate.

The reserve list to date of six teams of the league was handed in at last night's meeting and is as follows: Canal Lewisville—C. Burrell, R. Dornier, L. Lennon, C. Dornier, J. Thompkins, John Carter, Ward Slaughter, Frank Payne and D. Sondles.

Franklin—George Roberts, B. Harris, James Bookless, Ben Clark, John Kiser, John Lillibridge, Henry Turnbull, B. Maston, J. Fitzpatrick, C. Wright and P. Addy.

H. D. Beach—Frank Tish, Frank Caton, Nelson Dixon, Stewart Dixon, C. Davis, George Simkins, Rudolph Ehrlich, C. Mizer, E. Weber, Earl Todd, George Shrigley and Otto Shrigley.

Park Views—R. Thompson, W. Duve, T. Powelson, T. Haight, W. Schube, B. Davis, L. Barcus, J. Gross, F. Segal, P. Davis and C. Price.

Schlacks—T. Stewart, Frank Ricketts, P. Ross, E. Brennan, T. Daity, E. Ross, F. Brennan, B. Hook, F. Shafer, O. Roadruck, C. Wickens.

Buckeyes—George Weaver, Richard Brunskill, F. White, Reese Jones, Wm. Conroy, Earl Dawson, George Mapel, Tom Conroy, Roy Sheely, Benton Wells and Archie Jennings.

It Rained

In the midst of Judge Eason's charge to the jury Friday afternoon, an Age reporter came near breaking up court. The press table was immediately in front of the bench. One of the attorneys asked in a whisper that the glass water pitcher on the bench be moved in order that the lawyer might better see the judge. Always accommodating, The Age man shoved the pitcher—it struck the glass full of water, the glass was upset and the water dashed at the judge! The list was spry enough to miss the deluge and the incident didn't even dampen the occasion. It created a slight mirth however, particularly with Bailiff Jeffries who inadvertently dashed the pitcher at the judge's feet.

HOW JUDGE EASON CHARGED THE JURY

Closing Scenes Before The Case Went To The Jury.

Judge Eason's charge to the jury was not completed till just five o'clock—the factory whistles were blowing when he concluded. It was manifestly fair and square and placed the case before the jury in a plain unvarnished light, where truth and facts are the sole factors. Sympathy, eloquence and supposition were relegated to the rear. The charge was a search light that bare facts alone, and was just as much against Dickerson as it was for him, just as much in his favor as against him. Judge Eason had consumed hours of time and gray matter galore in preparing it. The charge covered twenty-eight closely typewritten pages.

Here are some interesting extracts, stenographic, from the charges:

You must exclude from your minds, promptly, manfully, and absolutely, all impressions and convictions which may have found lodgment there, either consciously or unconsciously, that are not made by the evidence or the law. When you come to the consideration of this case upon its merits, you should not permit the suggestions, allusions, statements, and arguments about the distress and sorrow of the families interested, to have any weight or influence upon your minds. With the dispensation of mercy you have nothing to do. You are ministers of justice and not of mercy. The administration of mercy is a function that belongs to the governor of the state, aided by the board of pardons.

Enforce the Law.

In a civilized state like this, it is absolutely essential to the preservation of social order that the law should be enforced and especially in cases where acts of violence have been done. It is equally important that innocence should not be punished. You were impeached, not for vengeance, but to subserve the ends of public justice.

You will be justified and are required to consider a reasonable doubt as existing if the materials facts, or any one of them, without which guilt cannot be established, may be fairly reconciled with the innocence of the defendant; and for all purposes of law, a reasonable doubt of guilt is sufficient to command a verdict of acquittal as the clearest proof of innocence.

This indictment by its terms charges the defendant, as already stated, with murder in the first degree. It also includes and embraces in its terms the crimes of murder in the second degree, manslaughter, assault and battery and assault and under it the defendant may be lawfully convicted under any of the three counts of the indictment of the crime of murder in the first degree; or any of the lesser crimes mentioned, if in your judgment, the evidence before you under the law, here given warrants such conviction. And upon the failure of the evidence under such rules as are given you, to establish his guilt, as to any of them, he must be acquitted.

If the evidence so warrants it you may find him guilty of murder in the first degree, or you may acquit him of murder in that degree and find him guilty of murder in the second degree, or you may acquit him entirely of murder and find him guilty of manslaughter, etc.

Character.

As a general rule a man's character for anything is the outgrowth of what he is, and if by his conduct and deportment among his fellows, he has earned the reputation of being a man of peace and quiet, it affords grounds for believing that he is what by his conduct he seems to be and the impartial mind is the less ready to conclude that such a one has acted contrary to what may seem to be a law of his life. The weight to be given to the hitherto good character of the defendant for peace and quiet you so find, must be such as the order all the circumstances, it should receive.

Circumstantial Evidence.

To authorize a conviction on circumstantial evidence alone the circumstances should not only be consistent with the prisoner's guilt, but must be inconsistent with any rational conclusion or reasonable hypothesis, and such as leave no doubt in the minds of the jury of the defendant's guilt.

Circumstantial evidence is legal and competent in criminal cases, and if it is of such character as to exclude every reasonable doubt it is entitled to the same weight as direct testimony. It is difficult to fabricate the connected links in a chain of circumstances so as to preserve the semblance of truth. When the circumstances detailed are read and natural they will correspond with each other.

Flight.

The flight of a prisoner immediately after a crime is committed with which he is charged is a circumstance in establishing his guilt, not sufficient of itself to establish his guilt, but a circumstance which the jury may consider in determining the probabilities for or against him, the probability of his guilt or innocence.

Bloodhounds, the court said, may be considered of evidence if sure of their stock and training but must be considered as corroborative.

The testimony as to the burning of the house may be considered only as to showing malice, hatred and ill will of the defendant to Katherine Hughes.

Conversation.

Conversation is the most unreliable class of testimony and that class of testimony should be viewed with de liberation and care.

In closing the court said:

The question whether or not the accused, in case your verdict should be guilty of murder in the first degree shall be recommended to the mercy of the court under this section then your discretion calls for the exercise of your best and soundest judgment. It is responsible judgment. It is a responsibility placed upon you by the legislature and which cannot be avoided but must be determined by you as your best judgment and discretion should dictate, and the court can be of no aid or assistance to you in the exercise of that discretion in determining this matter.

This last appeal to the jury for the state was finished by Prosecutor Glenn at 2:45 o'clock Friday afternoon the speaker having occupied about six hours of time with an argument that was replete with sound logic and delivered in a quiet convincing manner. The prosecutor covered several of the strongest points of the testimony offered by the state during the closing minutes of his talk and held the closest attention of the vast audience by his efforts.

When he spoke of how the young mother must have struggled when the fiend grasped her by the throat, struggled for not only her honor but for life itself and in the thought that no finger of scorn should ever be raised against her little girl Dollie, she fought till the murderer's fingers had sunk into the tender throat and unconsciousness came followed by death, there was perhaps not a dry eye in the court room unless it was that of Ben Dickerson who as usual retained his unconcerned demeanor.

A Dramatic Manner

The speaker stated "It is God's law and the law of man, that who so sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed. This power is delegated to you gentlemen and it rests with you whether God's penalty shall be inflicted or whether that verdict shall be tempered with mercy. No fouler crime has ever been committed.

If the absent witness were here she would probably say, Be not unjust to my slayer, be not unjust to God but let your verdict be a warning to the seducer and protect my daughter."

He gave a drubbing to counsel for defense for actions in the trial, in closing.

HUMAN BLOOD MARKS.

A tale of horror was told by marks of human blood in the home of J. W. Williams, a well known merchant of Bac, Ky., He writes: "Twenty years ago I had severe hemorrhages of the lungs, and was near death when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. It completely cured me and I have regained well ever since." It cures Hemorrhages, Chronic Coughs, Settled Colds and Bronchitis and is the only known cure for Weak Lungs. The Week's Business

New York, April 14.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: Stringency in the money market has caused no interruption to the wholesome progress of trade and industry, although tending to develop conservatism in speculative departments. Weather conditions accelerate the distribution of seasonable merchandise, and retail business is of large volume outside the immediate vicinity of the coal mines. Building operations are only limited by the supply of labor and material. Manufacturing plants are fully engaged; pig iron production is at the maximum; shipments of footwear from Boston exceed those of any previous year, and a firmer tone is reported at the textile mills in response to the well-maintained markets for raw materials. Railway earnings for the first week of April were 8.1 per cent larger than last year.

Work of Safe-Blowers.

Akron, O., April 14.—Safe-blowers secured $800 in money and checks from the safe at Botzum Brothers', owners of a large grain elevator on Main street, near the heart of the city.

Infant Drowns in Cistern.

Upper Sandusky, O., April 14.—Mary, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Oberdier of Marcellus, fell into a cistern while playing with her brother and was drowned.

Governor Pattison.

Cincinnati, O., April 14.—The following bulletin was issued at 10:30 o'clock Friday night: "Governor Pattison has passed a satisfactory day. His condition is slightly better."

Murder in Opium Joint.

Columbus, O., April 14.—In a quarrel in an opium joint, George Harley, 35, colored, was stabbed and killed. Frank Brady, 30, also colored, is under arrest.

Another Great Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla

A medicine that will cure the worst cases of scrofula, eczema, psoriasis and other blood diseases, is sure to be successful with all similar troubles.

Mrs. Wynne's wonderful cure should convince you that Hood's Sarsaparilla is the medicine for you to take.

"I had a very bad attack of eczema, that terrible skin disease. No one can imagine the agony I endured.

"For five long months I lay in bed, tossing this way and that for bodily comfort. I had two doctors and was on a bread and milk diet for more than five months. No meat, potatoes, cereal or fish. I was white as a ghost from bread and milk.

"I did not have the eczema in one place only, but from the top of my head to the soles of my feet. My hair all fell out, and I was blind at times.

"I had 32 boils and 4 carbuncles at one time, was a mass of scabs and pus.

Oh, the Burning and Itching and the treatment with all kinds of salves and ointments! I did not have water on my face or any part of me for over five months. Instead, I was washed from head to foot in sweet oil, with a little carbolic acid. My house was like a drug store. Then I had a specialist, who said that in all his experience he never saw such a sight as I was. He wanted to take me to a clinic in New York, but I said no.

"About that time a friend suggested that I try Hood's Sarsaparilla. My husband got me a bottle, and from the first I began to improve, but it took a number of bottles to relieve me of that terrible affliction.

"Now I am quite well, and feel I owe my life to Hood's Sarsaparilla.

My testimony can be fully verified by the leading doctors of this city." Mrs. FRED WYNN, 817 So. 2nd St., Plainfield, N. J.

SPECIAL—To meet the wishes of those who prefer medicine in tablet form, we are now putting up Hood's Sarsaparilla in chocolate-coated tablets as well as usual liquid form. Reducing Hood's Sarsaparilla to a solid extract, we have retained in the tablets the curative properties of every medicinal ingredient sold by druggists, or sent by mail if your druggist does not have them. 100 doses $1. SMOKE RISING FROM CRATER

Mount Vesuvius Now Gives No Other Sign of Life.

INTERNAL RUMBLINGS CEASE

Volcano Seems to Have Spent Itself in One Tremendous Convulsion. Sun Obscured in the Vicinity of Naples—Survey of the Desolated District.

Naples, April 14.—The period of danger has passed, and only desolation and slowly declining panic remain. The volcano seems to have spent itself in one enormous convulsion. Director Matteucci, who heroically holds his post in the observatory, believes that the eruption has ended, and every outward indication confirms this view. No more rumblings come from the bowels of the earth, giving terrifying warnings to the inhabitants. The volcano is hidden behind a thick curtain of smoke, which rises from the crater and then spreads and falls, enveloping a vast circle in semi-darkness. Naples is just beyond this circle, and the city was bathed in sunshine while the ugly, black pall hung to the westward over a belt midway between Rome and Naples.

Vesuvius belies all popular pictures, which represent the mountain clearly outlined against the sky, vomiting smoke and ashes by day and fire by night. Not the slightest outline is visible of the crater, crest or foothills, all being swallowed up in a dense mass of smoke. There is the same obscurity at night, unrelieved by flashes or reflected light, such as are seen during quieter periods. Vesuvius quiescent is picturesquely grand, but active or smoldering it is terrible only in its blackness and obscurity.

A correspondent traveled in the belt over which ashes continue to fall. This lies to the north of Naples, as the wind now carries the discharge away from the city. At Rome there was sunshine, but 20 miles south a thin veil of smoke made nearby mountains dimly visible, their snowpeaks soiled and sooty. The zone of the semi-obscurity began 25 miles above Naples. Here there was an uncanny phenomenon. The sun, though shining, was invisible. Its light seemed to come through smoked glasses. Everything was covered with powder. The locomotives were coated as though they had plowed through tar. Pretty white villas were daubed and dripping with mud and people were busy on the roofs shoveling off the ashes. The crowds at the stations resembled millers, their clothing covered with graphite powder. Villas, trees and churches have been beaten with gray mud on the sides exposed to the volcanic stream. Ten miles north of Naples the train enters an area of semi-night.

NO EFFORT

To Be Made by Platt to Be Re-elected to the Senate.

New York, April 14.—Seated at his desk in his office in the United States Express company's building, Senator Thomas C. Platt declared he would make no effort to be re-elected to the United States senate at the expiration of his term in 1909. "It is true," he said, "with a touch of sadness in his tones, "that I do not expect to return to the senate when my present term ends. I will have gratified my desire for public office by that time." Further than this the senior senator from New York would make no comment on his intended action.

Council Restrained.

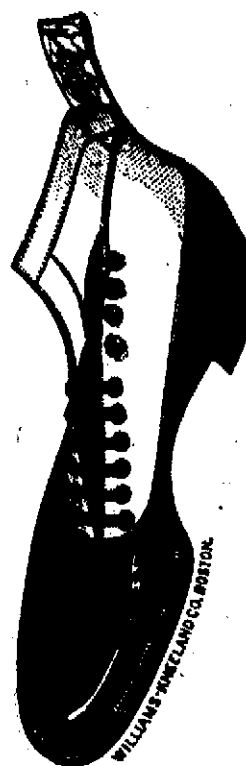

Kansas City, April 14.—A temporary restraining order enjoining the council of this city from passing a pending ordinance granting a natural gas franchise to the officials of the Kansas City Missouri Gas company, which owns the present gas franchise, was granted by the Jackson county circuit court. The injunction suit was filed by County Prosecutor Kimball at the instigation of Mayor-elect Harry M. Beardsley, who believed that there was an intention to pass the franchise before he assumes the duties of mayor Monday noon.

Washington Letter

Washington, D. C., April 13.—(Special)—Word has reached the white house that the quarters over Moore's grocery store at Oyster Bay, are ready for the use of the executive staff and Secretary Loeb will sign the necessary papers with the proprietors within the next few days. It is quite probable that the Moore brothers will adopt their usual "hold up" tactics this year as they have on former occasions in the effort to force the president to pay more rent for the summer capital offices.

"Those fellows down there" said Secretary Loeb, commenting on this annual stand-and-deliver game. "raise the rent on us every year. They never get what they want for they always want about

Two or Three Times what the offices are worth. But they think because they have the most desirable effects in the town that they ought to get New York rental for them. If the president did not go down there to live things up, I'd like to know what the town would amount to? Is it only because the president does go there that the town is ever heard of at all. If it were not his home town, not one person in a hundred thousand would know that it was on the map.

The graspingness displayed by the Moore brothers is not confined to that particular family in Oyster Bay, for everyone who goes down there with the president

Pays Tribute to the Yankee instincts of the residents. Board that is fit to eat cannot be obtained for less than $12 a week in private boarding houses and the only hotel the place supports collects $3 a day from the newspaper men and secret service detectives who follow the Chief Magistrate to his vacation rest. Common little red apples that cold to the villagers at 10 cents a quarter of a peck leap to a cent a piece when one of the "summer boarders" come to buy, and the livermen who ordinarily collect fifteen cents from drummers for a trip to the hotel from the station unblushingly demand 50 cents for the same service from the opulent newspaper correspondents.

"You fellows are making A Lot of Money down here, and we're going to get our share of it," remarked one of the lively stable keepers, who, by the way gloried in the name of niffen. "The charge to Sagamore Hill will be $3.50." The ordinary rate to the president's house and back from the village is $1.50, so you may imagine that the merry villagers are glad to see the summer residents come to town.

Although no date has been set for the president's departure from Washington. It is understood that he will leave for Oyster Bay about June 1 or 26. He will be accompanied by the same staff that represented the white house last year, with the exception of Assistant Secretary B. F. Barnes, who will not go. Mr. Barnes has been nominated for the Washington postmastership, a job that pays $6,000 a year just twice what he is getting as assistant secretary. Mr. Barnes will be replaced by Rudolph Forster, second assistant secretary. Another change that will be noticed will be the substitution of James Slean for Frank Tyree as chief secret service guard. Tyree was recently appointed United States marshal for the southern district of West Virginia, at Huntington. Senator Elkins is credited with pulling off the appointment for Tyree, although the faithful work he performed as the president's body guard for five or six years had probably more to do with the plum falling into his lap.

The summer sojourners are rejoicing over the rumor that another hotel will be opened in Oyster Bay this year. Their jubilation is kept in bounds, however by the recollection that the same rumor has been floated for several springs without any tangible results. The new hotel has been standing three-fourths completed on Main street, for nearly four years. The projectors ran short of money and were still short according to latest accounts. It is to be hoped that they made a raise. If they have and will be able to furnish room and meals, more or less square, to the hungry followers of the president and to the politicians and social callers who are obliged from time to time to visit the dismal little village on the sound.

THE WAGES OF SIN.

An eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth. The old laws are the ones that satisfy humanity and the millenium is still on the horizon.

Ben Dickerson has been found guilty of the murder of Mrs. Hughes by a jury of his peers and will doubtless be sentenced to death in the electric chair. The verdict is in accord with popular opinion and nothing short of that would have satisfied the public. In fact, from all the evidence adduced there seems to be no doubt of Dickerson's guilt. His attorneys have made a hard fight but their case was a hopeless one from the start. Public sentiment has been against them, testimony has been against them and the facts have been against them. The state has made a vigorous campaign and had its case well in hand. Not a point escaped them.

Two things sentenced Ben Dickerson. First and foremost the testimony of Thomas McCoy. True he told various stories both to friends and to the two grand juries and to the trial court. But Tom McCoy is believed in his last story. That he told the truth there is little doubt. It is a self-proven fact that any man telling the story of the same event four times will make each time different, try as hard as he may to stick to his text. Tom McCoy's testimony, fastened the crime indelibly on Ben Dickerson. With it thus fastened upon him Ben Dickerson himself proceeded to clinch it by his testimony of his little interest in humanity. He displayed shameful heartlessness on the stand in his story, particularly against his wife. He showed a temperament that could commit just such a crime as was charged against him.

It is this same lack of warm blood, want of a heart, that makes his disposition the most callous that ever appeared before a court. His leather exterior was impervious to even the shot of death itself and he never lost his wonderful composure. In fact a few days ago when called on by a gentleman in company with one of his attorneys Dickerson said, when asked what he would do if an adverse verdict were brought in "that he guessed he'd have to take his medicine like any one else." To the last he maintains his innocence.

Ben Dickerson will die in the electric chair within 100 days unless the final efforts of his attorneys prove successful. He committed a most grievous crime. He killed a woman. Twelve men have investigated and declared this to be true. The wages of sin is death and he reaps the whirlwind. His fellow men have found it impossible to show him mercy. May the Lord have mercy on his soul.

IMPORTANT!
Does the print fade out and seem indistinct after you have read some of the above testimony. Do your eyes smart and burn and are they bleary and watery in the mornings, or have you frequent headaches? These are sure signs your eyes are defective and need attention. WARSAW BOY WINS HIGH HONOR

Another Coshocton boy has won a signal honor on the debating platform. Clinton Laughlin, of Warsaw, a student at Wooster university, was a member of the team that represented Wooster in its annual big debate with the Western University of Pennsylvania Thursday night at Wooster. In fact Mr. Laughlin headed the three men of his college. The debate was on "Resolved, That the United States government should exercise control over all corporations engaged in interstate commerce."

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

TWO SAD DEATHS AT WILLOW BROOK

Reports from Willow Brook convey the sad intelligence of the death Friday night of two estimable ladies, Mrs. Jelly, aged 38, the venerable mother of James Jelly, and Mrs. Sarah Pepper, widow of the late Andrew Pepper and aged 85. Funeral arrangements in the first instance have not been completed but Mrs. Pepper's funeral will take place at Millfork Sunday at 11 a. m. It is likely that Mrs. Jelly will be buried Sunday at Keene.

Fifth Ohio Miners' Demands.

Wheeling, W. Va., April 14.—At the joint conference of the miners' and operators of the Fifth Ohio subdistrict, which includes the West Virginia Panhandle counties and Belmont, Jefferson and part of Harrison counties, Ohio, the miners presented their demands for the 1903 scale. The operators then went into executive session and discussed their reply to the miners. T. E. Young of the operators is chairman of the joint conference, and Lee Rankin and Patrick McBryde secretaries.

Park Views Win.

The Park View quintet team went to Newark Friday night and repeated the dose of defeat handed out to the Licking county bunch in this city Wednesday night.

The Coshocton contingent claim that they couldn't get a cent of money on the series and also in spite of the fact that Newark promised to pay expenses providing the visitors won; the boys had to stand for all expenses.

Of course they had the money and didn't mind paying car fare for the privilege of wallowing Newark on her home alleys but it certainly showed up mightily "short."

The scores were as follows:

First Game.
Coshocton-205.
Newark-214.
Second Game.
Coshocton-214.
Newark-214.
Third Game.
Coshocton-260.
Newark-216.

JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT

Was Alarmingly Afflicted With La Grippe. Relieved by Pe-ru-na.

The Grip Is Properly Termed Epidemic Catarrh.

As Pe-ru-na Relieves Every Form of Catarrh, It Has Probably Relieved More Cases of Grip Than Any Other Remedy.

W. H. PARSONS,
925 H. St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

The Fear of Grip Makes People Nervous.

There is no remedy in the world that meets the conditions produced by the grip better than Peruna.

Peruna strengthens as it renovates, soothes while it stimulates, heals as it expurgates.

It reaches the source of all diseases of the mucous membranes by its action on the vaso-motor system of nerves.

After-Effects of the Grip.

Every person who has had la grippe during the last year should take a course of Peruna.

The grip has produced catarrhal inflammation of the whole mucous membrane, and good health is impossible until these are restored to a normal condition. This Peruna will do.

A great many remedies have been suggested for this condition from time to time, but Peruna is the only remedy that has gained great popularity in these cases.

It has seldom failed to give satisfaction during forty years' experience and still occupies the unique position of being the leading and most generally used remedy for the after-effects of la grippe.

HIGH PRESSURE DAYS.

Men and women alike have to work incessantly with brain and hand to hold their own nowadays. Never were the demands of business, the wants of the family, the requirements of society, more numerous. The first effect of the pressure worthy effort to keep up with all these things is commonly seen in a weakened or debilitated condition of the nervous system, which results in dyspepsia, defective nutrition of both body and brain, and in extreme cases in complete nervous prostration. It is clearly seen that what is needed is what will sustain the system, give vigor and tone to the nerves, and keep the digestive and assimilative functions healthy and active. From personal knowledge, we can recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla for this purpose. It acts on all the vital organs, builds up the whole system, and fits men and women for these high-pressure days.

For Easter, we cannot all have the old farm-cured, farm-smoked Hams and Bacon, but we can have Swift's PREMIUM Hams and Bacon, which are even more delicious—sweet, tender and juicy. Order in advance from your dealer. For sale by J. F. Albertson.

"Ben Dickerson has confessed everything, hasn't he?" was the startling question put at The Age over long distance telephone from Plainfield Friday afternoon.

Not an hour had elapsed when the case question came from Warsaw, then from up near Fresno, and finally Zanesville came in with an excited yell and wanted to know why the confession had not been wired them at once.

It was all right with one exception. Ben Dickerson hadn't confessed.

The news, it seems spread all over the county and people believed it till they read Friday's Age and saw that there was no mention of anything of the kind. Funny how such things start and get better the farther they go isn't it?

Mrs. Bert West left this morning for Mt. Vernon where she will join her husband who is located there.

Rheumatic Pains

"I have suffered terribly with rheumatism. I took Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills and they gave me great relief. I have spells of terrible pains in my ribs, and in the small of my back, and the Anti-Pain Pills help me right away. I am now well of the rheumatism and think Anti-Pain Pills done me more good than all the other medicines. I first heard of them through the following circumstance that happened at our home two years ago. A friend, Mrs. Brown, of Orion, Mich., came to visit us. She had not been able to dress herself or comb her own hair for months. A friend of ours came in and seeing her suffering offered her some Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. She laughed at the idea of doctoring for so long, but took one of the tablets with the remark that it would at least do her no harm. She took another that evening, and the next morning she was so elated that she went to the druggist's and got a package and took them home with her. Recently she was here again, and told us that she continued taking the pills, and that one box cured her, and she has not had a symptom of rheumatism since."

TELEPHONE WAS WORKING ALL NIGHT FOR JURY NEWS

The wide interest felt in every corner of the county in the Ben Dickerson trial was once again evidenced Friday night when both the Citizens and Bell telephones in The Age office kept up a continuous fusillade and from about every township—every locality—in the county came the question "what is the verdict." Many telephoned half a dozen times in the evening. Warsaw was exceedingly anxious to learn, and so was Soperdale and every community in the western part of the county. Zanesville and Cambridge both wanted to know, and even Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Cincinnati wired in to "rush Dickerson verdict up to 3 a. m." The rapid fire of long distance questioning did not cease until nearly midnight when The Age office closed.

Dr. Shoop has created at his Laboratories a superior, sweet, toothsome candy tablet named Lax-ets. WARBLED LIKE A MOCKING BIRD

Miss Huber a delightful feature of a Charming Concert.

A crowd which filled the Eleventh Street Church of Christ to its fullest capacity thoroughly enjoyed the musical entertainment given Friday evening by Miss Hazel Huber of Columbus assisted by Mrs. Harry Kerlin, Miss Lillian Cairnes and Miss Mary Mortley of this city.

Miss Huber is a whistler and bird warbler and her numbers were all received with enthusiasm especially the one which gave to the audience the beautiful tones of the mocking bird. Her accompaniments were played by Miss Edna Drummond who also was at the piano during the opening number given by the Sunday school orchestra. Mrs. Kerlin and Miss Mortley sang delightfully, their accompaniments being played by Miss Erma Coe and Miss Cairnes recited in her pleasing manner.

The entertainment was given under the auspices of Mrs. Drummond's Sunday school class and cleared a satisfactory sum which will go to swell the new church building fund.

AGREEMENT WITH DOWIE

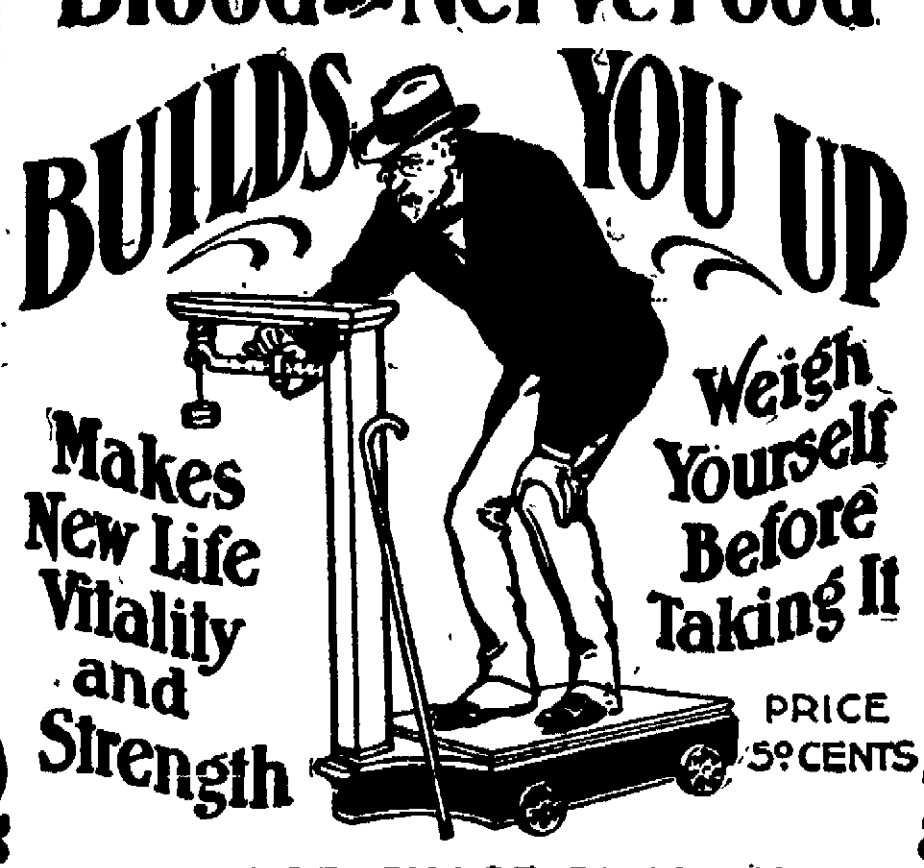

First Apostle's Retirement Will Follow His Vindication.

Chicago, April 14.—According to a statement authorized by the legal advisers of both John Alexander Dowie and General Overseer Voliva, peace hovers over the warring factions that are endeavoring to secure control of Zion.

After a secret conference, Emil C. Wetten, representing Dowie, said: "We are nearer a peaceful solution of this question now than we have been at any stage of the proceedings. We have changed our minds relative to the filing of a bill in equity declaring the transferring of the ownership of the property of Zion City by Voliva to Deacon Alexander Granger to be void, and will await further developments. As a matter of formality we have filed a paper in the circuit court of Lake county of this state declaring that the power of attorney granted to General Overseer Voliva by the 'first apostle,' John Alexander Dowie, was absolutely void, inasmuch as Voliva had not acted in accordance with the instructions given him in reference to the execution of the power delegated to him by Dowie."

At the termination of the conference, which was participated in by Judge V. V. Barnes, legal adviser of Zion City; Jacob Newman, counsel for Voliva and his forces, and Attorney Wetten, representing Dowie, Dr. Newman said: "Dowie and his advisers admitted that we have in our possession documentary evidence to the effect that his advisers admit that 95 per cent of the property belong to the Christian Catholic church, but he has furthermore acquiesced in the proposition that if he is given 5 per cent of this property after he has been installed in temporary control, as ecclesiastical and financial head, he will retire. In other words, Dowie desires to be vindicated, reinstated at the full powers attending the first apostleship of the Christian Catholic church, whereupon he will issue an edict declaring that 95 per cent of the property of Zion City belongs to the church and that 5 per cent belongs to him (Dowie)." According to conservative estimates given out by the two factions, this would give to Dowie $1,000,000 and to the church $19,000,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kitchen will spend Sunday in Columbus.

Old Hard Luck Starts The Season

"Red" Tells Of Timely Topics In The Sport World.

Cincinnati, April 14—(Special)—

The base ball season in the National League was inaugurated on Thursday, with what results has already been made public by wire and word of mouth. Here in Cincinnati two deep regrets mingled with the general joyousness that usually marks the beginning of the summer's sport. Just a week before the opening, John Siegle, who had been voted one of the finds of the year, twisted his foot in sliding to second base in an exhibition game, and when an examination was made of the member it was found that a small bone in his leg had snapped just above the ankle, with the result that it will be June 1 before the clever player is able to resume his place on the team. Several days later Cant. Kelley, who was showing better form in all departments of the game than he had manifested in some years, tried the same sort of a slide that proved so costly to Siegle, and he, too, contracted an injury, two sprained ankles being the sum total of his hurts. Kelly will be back in the game some time next week. But these two accidents, coming so closely upon one another, cast a spirit of gloom over the followers of the Reds which only a long series of victories can dispel.

All Winners.

Just previous to the opening of the base ball season efforts were made to secure the opinions of the various managers concerning their respective teams. Some of them were modest in their claims—McCloskey, of St. Louis, for instance making no stronger prediction than that his Cardinals would not finish last in the race. On the other hand, Manager McGraw of the New York, boldly claimed the pennant again. "We may be a little slow in starting," wrote the leader of the Giants, "but once we strike our gait, nothing can stop us." Manager Clark, of the Pittsburghs, claimed no position for his team, but was bold enough to say that the Pirates would play the Giants to a standstill. Manager Chance, of the Chicago, predicted that the Cubs would be first or thereabouts. Manager Hanlon would predict nothing but that the Reds would play better ball than they did last year. It looks as though his prediction was the safest of the lot.

Wants to Fight.

Frank Gotch insists upon becoming a pugilist. The clever wrestler sees no further for the Graeco-Roman or catch-as-catch-can game, and would renege some of the shekels that go even with the losing end of a face pummeling exhibition; and so he has announced, in large letters, that if he defeats Jack O'Brien in the match in which they will engage next month, he will desert the wrestling game forever and remain a pugilist. If Gotch sticks to his word, and makes his pugilistic career contingent upon his winning from O'Brien, he'll be back on the mat before long, for O'Brien can lick him with one hand tied behind his back.

Looking For Trouble

That Cella-Adler-Tillas syndicate of bookmakers that seems to be running the Western Jockey club—or to be more correct, which seems to be the Western Jockey club—is still looking for trouble. The latest field of strife is up in Detroit, where the syndicate has refused to allow the Grand Circuit people to use the Grosse Pointe track for their harness aces this summer. This is said to have been done in retaliation for some fancied wrong that the municipal fathers of Detroit have done the syndicate in the enforcement—or proposed enforcement—of some law or other in regard to running races. It is generally believed that the action of the syndicate in shutting out the Grand Circuit races will act as a boomerang, and that other laws will now be respected that will greatly depreciate the value of the syndicate's track. Louisville, by the way, expects to have a W. J. C. track at Douglass Park, where dates will be arranged to clash with the Latonia meeting in this city.

The Sunday Game.

It is remarkable what a hold base ball has on the people of the smaller cities. It was noted last season that a large proportion of the Sunday attendance at the local park came from the prosperous and hustling cities lying within a radius of about 150 miles of Cincinnati. Railroads realize that the outside fans are wise and enthusiastic patrons of the game, and this season are preparing to put on more excursions than ever. The result will be that the out-of-town lover of the game will have more opportunities to see high class base ball than ever before—and under the able management of New Hanlon the local team certainly will give a better class of sport than was offered the fans last year.

Coming Bout.

The coming fight for the American featherweight championship between Abe Attell and Frankie Neill is attracting much attention both here and in England. It is generally understood that the winner of the match will meet Jim Bowker, the English feather, and holder of the world's title, some time in May. Of the three men Attell is the cleverer so far as science is concerned, but he has not the punch that either Neill or Bowker can deliver. Usually it's the punch that counts, and there will be need of much science on the part of Attell to win the battle from Neill—and even more to take the world's championship away from Bowker.

No Sunday Ball.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 14.—Following a conference between Mayor Bookwalter and the owners of the Indianapolis American association baseball team, it was stated that no Sunday games would be played in this city during the coming season. The city officials announced their determination to enforce the city ordinance against Sunday games should the necessity for action arise.

MEET TO REVISE PREMIUM LIST

The regular April meeting of the board of directors of the county agricultural society, was held in Secretary Boyd's office Saturday morning. The meeting was for the purpose of arranging the premium list for the coming year which will be practically like the one last year as few changes were made.

The scholarship which the society Paul D. etfehnm. W3 as gives each year was awarded to Paul D. Laughlin of Warsaw. He will enter the Veterinary Department O. S. U.

To get rid of the bad breath, the sickening discharges from the nose and throat, the loss of smell and taste, etc., such ingredients as Thymol, Wild Indigo, Oil of Eucalyptus, etc., must be used. Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure depends upon such healing agents as these in combination with other antiseptic specifics. These are then incorporated into a soft soothing and healing imported Jelly secured in Europe. When applied to diseased mucous membranes it acts like magic, clearing up these revolting diseases promptly and with a marked sensation of comfort. Sold by C. E. Anderson.

Shaft Penetrates Horse's Shoulder
The horse hitched to the Crowthers paint wagon was seriously injured in a novel manner Friday. While being driven down Main street, one tug came loose allowing the horse to get partly out of the shafts. The wagon then ran up on the animal and one of the shafts penetrated the right shoulder, about nine inches. Dr. Foster dressed the wound.
